TERMS AND CONDITIONS

If Dankeschoen dies, is rendered unfit or otherwise unavailable to produce semen, Bluefields will provide an alternative. Alternatively, the breeder may choose frozen semen of Bluefields Berlin or chilled semen of Bluefields Floreno, Bluefields Sir Secret or Bluefields Lennox.

- Rebreeding: If the mare doesn't fall pregnant, loses the pregnancy or the foal at birth, you can rebreed the following season 2027/28 on the same contract.
- Change of mare: If the mare described in this contract is no longer available or suitable for breeding, a substitute mare owned or leased by the Breeder will be allowed.
- Embryo transfer: If more than one pregnancy is achieved, additional pregnancy fees are payable in accordance with the number of embryos recovered at a rate of $1'100.00.
- Transport cost (if applicable): Option 1: same day delivery to most Australian airports for $295.00 + applicable airport flight cost. Transport costs from the receiving airport will be at the expense of the Breeder.
- Option 2: pick-up at Bluefields Warmblood Stud, 820 Tourist Road East Kangaloon NSW, 2576.
- The container transporting the semen is the property of Bluefields and must be returned undamaged as soon as insemination occurs, or the semen is transferred to a veterinarian's storage facility, whichever occurs first, at the Breeder's cost.
- Risk of loss: Risk of loss or harm to the semen passes to the Breeder when it is delivered into the custody of the transporter for the transport to the destination point.
- Insurance: Bluefields is not obliged to hold or keep current any insurance policy covering death or injury of the Mare, its foal or foetus, or loss or damage to the semen or its shipping container.
- Governing law: This contract is governed by the law in force in New South Wales, Australia. The parties submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of New South Wales in respect of all proceedings arising in connection with this contract.

Semen request form: To be completed and returned to Bluefields by email. Please phone us to confirm we have received your order. The Breeder must provide Bluefields at least 24 hours prior written notice detailing when and where the semen is required. The request form can be downloaded from our website.
